

ATTRACTING ABUNDANCE WITH COLOR

Every single color has its own different vibration. The vibration of the color green is important for abundance. Green is also important for healing, and you may know, if you connect with different angels, that emerald green color is very strongly connected with Archangel Raphael, our healing angel. It's also connected to money and attracting abundance. Well, think about it for a minute...it's like that abundance coming to you is healing in a sense, isn't it? It's helping to release stress, it's releasing debt, it's releasing fear. It's helping to heal you so that you don't have to worry about those things that you shouldn't be spending your time worrying about. When we slip into that fear mode, we start to stress about money. We start to stress about the bills, and how we're going to pay for things. We block that abundance from coming through. When we focus on the green energy, it heals away those barriers. It releases those blocks, and opens up the doors for abundance to come toward you. The key is - to be open to receive as well as setting an intention.

THREE SIMPLE WAYS TO BRING GREEN INTO YOUR EVERYDAY LIFE

Eating the color green!!
Did you know that food and beverages carry the energy of the color green? Fresh herbs from the garden can be added to your meals when preparing them. Green tea is also an excellent source of green energy.

Wearing the color green!!
You can also attract abundance by wearing green colored clothing, or if green is not your favorite color, you could always wear it as an accent or by wearing green jewellery or carrying your favorite green crystal.

Visualizing the color green!!
Another simple thing you can do is place a green candle on your desk. Even if you are not able to burn the candle, simply by looking at it and bringing the energy of the color into your thoughts, will help to attract
